

The Freedom Foundation is a political coalition of anti-union CEOs and white supremacists in three piece suits. Backed by wealthy conservatives such as Donors Trust, the Walton Family, the Koch brothers and John Birch Society, the Foundation aims to wipe out every gain made since the Civil War.

Their agenda this year includes: pass "right to work" laws, overturn minimum wage laws and sanctuary city ordinances, file lawsuits against Seattle's new tax on high income earners, and block unionization of Uber and Lyft drivers.
